CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

On a shelf in Pat Stuber's room at Cedarbrook-Fountain Hill stands a statue of Our Lady of La Vang. It depicts the vision of the Blessed Mother holding the Infant Jesus as she appeared to Vietnamese Catholics of La Vang village in 1798. Like so many apparitions, or visions, of Mary over the centuries, she reflects the people to whom she appears. Our Lady of La Vang appears as a young Vietnamese woman holding her child, both with dark hair and eyes, and wearing traditional Vietnamese clothing.

Pat was raised in a devout Catholic family—her parents and seven children—whose faith upheld them in difficult times. When she was a teenager, her mother gave birth to her youngest brother, John Michael. He passed away at age 2 from a heart defect. Pat had cared for him and when he died, she felt as if she had lost her own child.

Better times for Pat came a few years later when she met her husband Danny and eventually moved to California and gave birth to their son, Sean. Then Pat began to have health problems which would lead to her not being able to have any more children. A few years later they returned to this area, found work, and also took up fostering children through the Catholic Social Agency.

When the US government began resettling Vietnamese refugees in the United States, the agency told Pat and Danny of four young Vietnamese brothers who would need foster care in the US. The boys' parents decided to send them to the US to escape being drafted into the Vietnamese Army as teenagers. Without hesitation, Pat and Danny agreed to foster all four. In a matter of months, they gained four Vietnamese "sons": Hanh, Cong, Cuong, and Dung.

The Vietnamese boys were also Catholic, so Pat and Danny drew upon their faith—and especially their devotion to the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph—for strength and guidance. Pat recalls this prayer: "Dear Jesus, Bless our family. Be so kind to give us the unity, peace, and mutual love that you found in your own family." Pat and Danny prayed that the bonds of love in the Holy Family also be within their own.

Their faith in God brought many blessings to their family. Their son Sean and his "brothers" bonded seamlessly, making friends, and playing soccer. Through hard work and guidance from Pat and Danny, the boys adapted to their new life. Pat and Danny took their sons on trips so that they could learn about America's past and see that people from many other lands had come to the US seeking freedom. Pat laughs when she remembers how she seemed to be constantly training the four Vietnamese boys to speak English, and that even today, as adults, she corrects their pronunciation.

Pat's husband Danny passed away in 2014, but not before they were both able to experience the joy of all five of their son's weddings, and to see the beginnings of their families. All the sons have successful careers and live happily with their wives and children around the country, coming together at holidays to visit with their mother, Pat.

The apparition of Mary and the Infant Jesus appeared to the Vietnamese villagers when they were enduring violent persecution for their faith in the late 18th century. The vision of Mary gave them courage and strengthened their Catholic faith. Pat says the choices she and Danny made to take up the refugee boys reflected their devotion to God and to the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph. God and the Holy Family gave them the courage to open their lives and their home to the boys who were suffering under an oppressive regime in Vietnam. Pat's faith story shows us the power of prayer and of trust in God to provide the love we need to nurture our families and each other.

CROCK POT POTATO SOUP

Ingredients

- 3 pounds Yukon Gold potatoes – washed and cut into approximately 1-inch cubes (do not peel)
- 4 cups chicken or vegetable stock
- 1 medium onion - minced
- 6 cloves garlic - minced
- 1 ½ teaspoons Kosher salt
- ½ teaspoon fresh cracked pepper
- 2 cups whole milk

Instructions

- To a 7 or 8 quart slow cooker, add potatoes, vegetable stock, onion, garlic, salt, and pepper. Place lid on cooker. Cook on high for 6 hours or low for 8.
- When potatoes are done, use an immersion blender to blend or "cream" the potatoes making sure not to over process. You want to leave some of the potato chunks. If you like it chunky then do not blend. Stir in milk. Let soup warm through about 15 minutes after adding milk.
- If you prefer serve with toppings* of your choice.

*Topping Ideas for Potato Soup

- Grated Sharp Cheddar Cheese or Grated Smoked Gouda Cheese
- Cooked Crumbled Bacon
- Fresh Chives and Fresh Parsley
- Chopped Green Onions

EMPLOYEE PET OF THE MONTH

Name of employee and department...

Maggie Donohue- Life Enrichment

Type of animal/ breed...

Dog- Weimaraner

How old is your pet?

Not sure. When I got her they claimed she was 2 years old and just had a litter of puppies. However, in the year that I have had her she has grown and I now think she might be around 2 years old.

Pet's name, how did you come up with it?

Maeve, she was originally called "Sage" but I wanted a name that sounded similar.

Are there any nicknames for your pet?

I call her Mavis.

How and when did you choose your pet?

Maeve and her sister were posted on Pet Finder, way out in the middle of the state. I fell in love with her sister but the owner said she had cancer and wasn't available any longer. So I drove out with a friend and rescued Maeve from the shack she was living in. It was a sad situation. But she is a love.

Does your pet have any special tricks?

She knows many hand signals and commands for sit, stay, and wait, etc.

Funniest memory of your pet...

Funny now, but not so much at the time. About 3 months ago Maeve got into the cabinet and pulled out a full container of oatmeal. She managed to drag it all the over the house from the kitchen to the living room, up the stairs to the bedroom. What a mess I walked into. Her belly was full but the house was a mess. Looking back it was funny but at the time I was a bit perturbed.

Does your pet have any bad/ naughty habits that drive you crazy?

As I stated she loves to find food that is not locked up or kept up high. She has gotten into the flour and bit all the heads off of my grandson's play dinosaurs. She found a can of dog food and managed to bite through the can and ate all of the contents. You name it, she has gotten into it. I have learned to keep stuff out of her reach.

Does your pet have a favorite toy or treat?

Maeve has sharp teeth and loves to chew; most of her toys are destroyed in a day. She has one that she has not destroyed and enjoys playing with this green character that so far is indestructible. She also loves treats, she goes around to the neighbors when they sit on their porch and goes right on up to visit them.

Fun facts about your pet or the breed...

Weimaraner's are great hunters, athletic and affectionate dogs. Maeve rarely barks and has very beautiful eyes. She is not a fan of small "yappy" dogs. The hunter in her will point out rabbits and squirrels. She is smart and knows many commands so I need to tell her to "leave it" before she moves on.

SCHOOL DAYS

That darn school bell has a miserable old ring
It's only September & already I'm sick of that ding-a-ling.
But each morning as we rise & shine
We smile at Mom & Dad, eat breakfast & toe the line.
We grab our backpack & our lunch
And go stand on the corner with the rest of the bunch.
With pushing & shoving, we get on the bus
You sit with your buddy & don't cause a fuss.
You finally get to school & that cute girl gives you a smile
Hey, maybe coming to school will be worth while.
You get down to your books & she is till giving you the looks
So you give her a smile, then a big goofy grin.
One that you are sure will make you win
But lo & behold, the teacher barks, "eyes front!"
Our school years begins with a big muffled grunt!

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

George Molchany- The Music Man

George was born in Northampton, Pennsylvania, but it wasn't long before his family moved to Whitehall, where he grew up and lived for most of his life until his later years. The youngest of three children, with a brother and sister, George recalls the love and support of his wonderful parents and fondly remembers being "their joy."

After high school, George jumped straight into the workforce. His first job was picking up golf balls part-time, and he also worked briefly at a Weis Market—though he quickly realized it wasn't for him. His true calling was always music.

George's heart has always been with the blues, and as a talented guitarist, he spent most of his career performing. Over the years, he played in several bands, including Jump Street Jibes, and Jekyll and Hyde. In one of his blues bands, he played a six-string guitar while his partner strummed a 12-string. His music took him to many festivals and fun adventures, including performing at Musikfest and taking trips to Las Vegas and lively casino outings. It was through music that George also found love—he met his wife while they were both in bands, and their shared passion for performing drew them together. Together, they raised two sons, Matthew and Nicholas, who live in California and Hawaii. Alongside his music career, George also worked at Martin's Guitar and enjoyed the companionship of his loyal German shepherd, Maggie.

When George finally retired, he celebrated with joy. While he loved his years as a musician, he was happy to embrace a new chapter. Now at Cedarbrook, he continues to share his passion for music. He volunteers as a resident DJ at the monthly Splash of Color watercolor painting program, filling the room with the music he loves. On sunny days, you might even find him outside playing his ukulele, bringing smiles to all who pass by.

For George, music has been more than a job—it has been the soundtrack of his life. And here at Cedarbrook, he continues to let that music play on.

Thank you, George, for taking the time to tell us your life's story. We also thank you for all you continue to do for the Cedarbrook community.
